NURSING EDUCATION

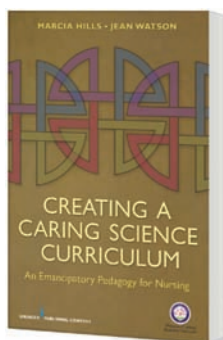

Clinical Wisdom and Interventions in Acute and Critical Care

A Thinking-in-Action Approach, Second Edition

Patricia Benner, RN, PhD, FAAN
Patricia Hooper-Kyriakidis, PhD, MSN
Daphne Stannard, RN, PhD, CCRN

This second edition of a classic text in nursing education is based on a three-year research project with interviews and observations of 205 RNs and APNs in critical care, emergency departments, perioperative areas, and emergency transport services. It assists faculty, educators, APNs, and preceptors in teaching/mentoring nurses on how to clinically reason (recognizing recurring clinical syndromes and patterns). Attention is paid to current IOM and nursing guidelines for system approaches to patient safety, with education and leadership implications described throughout.

An Illustrated Guide to Infection Control

Kathleen Motacki, MSN, RN, BC

Toros Kapoian, MD, FACP

Neeta Bahal O'Mara, PharmD, BCPS (Editor)

This all-encompassing volume assists nursing students and beginning-level RNs in developing a practical understanding of infection control issues as they relate to many different areas of health care.

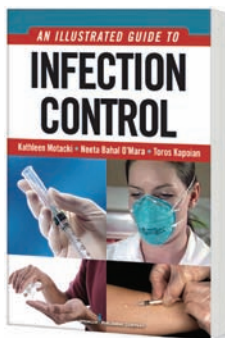

An Illustrated Guide to Infection Control covers every infection control topic, from basic hand washing, immunizations, infection control in critical care, infection control in labor and delivery, and medical waste disposal, to methods of surveillance, and everything in between—all in one volume. Written by experts in their respective fields, each chapter offers important insights on protecting patients, families, visitors, volunteers, and health care providers from infection. Illustrations are provided to help demonstrate the topics presented, and chapters contain questions and answers with rationales for students to reflect upon.

Key Features:

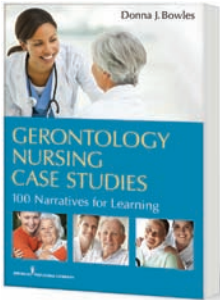

- Eliminates the need for multiple infection control resources by covering all essential topics in one volume
- Encompasses all of the important infection control topics, from basic issues such as hand washing, to specialty area-specific measures such as prevention measures for critical care nursing
- Includes pre-test and post-test questions for each chapter, with answers provided at the end of the book

DOCTOR OF NURSING PRACTICE

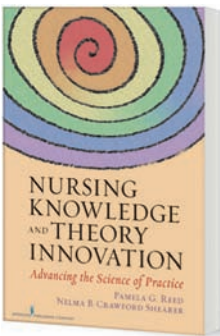

Role Development for Doctoral Advanced Nursing Practice

H. Michael Dreher, PhD, RN
Mary Ellen Smith Glasgow, PhD, RN, ACNS-BC

Useful as both a graduate textbook and a professional resource, this guide explores the historical and evolving role of the doctoral prepared Advanced Practice Registered Nurse (APRN). It presents positions and counter-positions from a variety of DNP educators and leaders that represent a diverse range of current views on the DNP role and the diverse “ideals” of what the role of the doctoral prepared APRN should be. This is the “must-have” text for use in all DNP role development courses and courses covering contemporary DNP degree issues.

Nursing Knowledge and Theory Innovation Advancing the Science of Practice

Pamela Reed, PhD, RN, FAAN
Nelma Shearer, PhD, RN

The current paradigm of nursing knowledge suggests theory is developed outside of practice, then handed down to the practitioner to practice. This unique text is for students and faculty at the DNP level to engage in developing nursing theory in order to directly guide and improve practice. This book guides students in learning to think in a new way about nursing theory development as it relates to nursing practice. It presents new perspectives and insights that may arise from frustrating clinical problems, and gives students the opportunity to rethink and reformulate existing theory.

Transcultural Nursing Theory and Models

Application in Nursing Education, Practice, and Administration

Priscilla Sagar, EdD, RN

This volume is the first to examine and promote the application of current, major transcultural nursing (TCN) theory, models, and assessment tools in nursing education, practice, and administration. As a comprehensive text for master's and bachelor's level nursing students, it features case studies, care plans, initial role playing exercises, and implications of TCN concepts when planning, implementing, and evaluating client care.

Key Features::

- Reviews one theory and four major TCN models plus one TCN assessment guide
- Provides assessment tools, case studies, and role playing exercises
- Offers NCLEX-type test questions and answers in each section

Self-Care Science, Nursing Theory & Evidence-Based Practice

Susan Taylor, MSN, PhD, FAAN
Katherine Renpenning, MScN

This book explores the high-level theory of the application of Orem's Self-Care Theory, and how it can improve patient outcomes as well as cost effectiveness of nursing care delivery. Written for nursing theorists, researchers, administrators, and graduate students, the text addresses the relationship of self-care theory and evidence-based care in nursing, and provides a solution to improving contemporary health care outcomes.

The Artinian Intersystem Model

Integrating Theory and Practice for the Professional Nurse, Second Edition

Barbara Artinian, PhD, RN (Editor)
Katharine West, MPH, MSN, RN, CNS (Editor)
Margaret Conger, EdD, RN (Editor)

The editors offer practical care plans at various levels of expertise across the continuum of care, from acute care to long-term care to resolve concerns through joint decision making and to document interventions. The text establishes exclusive care plans and scales for the Artinian Intersystem Model to document changes in health status. The book also employs evidence-based, Glaserian Grounded Theory research methods and serves as a companion to Springer's recent Glaserian Grounded Theory in Nursing Research.

Journal of Nursing Measurement

Ora L. Strickland, PhD, RN, FAAN, Senior Editor

This is the only journal that specifically addresses instrumentation in nursing. It serves as a prime forum for disseminating information on instruments, tools, approaches, and procedures developed or utilized for measuring variables in nursing—spanning practice, research, and education. Particular emphasis is placed on evidence for the reliability and validity or sensitivity and specificity of such instruments. The journal includes innovative discussions of theories, principles, practices, and issues relevant to nursing measurement.

Nursing History Review

Official Publication of the American Association for the History of Nursing

Patricia D'Antonio, Editor

Nursing History Review, an annual peer-reviewed publication, presents the most significant current research on nursing and the healthcare history. This nursing history review is the only nursing journal listed in the ISI social science index. Sections include scholarly articles, reviews of the best books on nursing and healthcare history, invited commentaries, and abstracts of new doctoral dissertations on nursing and healthcare history. Historians and researchers will find this an important resource.
