DEATH & GRIEVING

Grief Counseling and Grief Therapy A Handbook for the Mental Health Practitioner, Fourth Edition

J. William Worden, PhD, ABPP

"In the fields of death education, research, and counseling/psychology, surely Bill Worden is a giant....ALL of us, personally and professionally, are indebted to J. William Worden. From his work we may be just a bit wiser, a bit healthier, a bit more competent, and a lot more in touch with meaning (our own and those of others) for the sake of all who mourn."

—Illness, Crisis, & Loss

Dr. Worden presents the highly anticipated fourth edition to Grief Counseling and Grief Therapy, the gold standard of grief therapy handbooks. The previous editions, translated into 12 languages, received worldwide acclaim for their sensitive, insightful, and practical approach to grief counseling.

Key features:

- The task model has been modified to account for new thinking and research findings in the field, including meaning making, resilience, and continuing bonds
- A new chapter on the Mediators of Mourning helps clinicians to understand what accounts for individual differences in adapting to the death of a loved one
- Looks at recent controversies in the field including the best way to understand complicated bereavement and the efficacy of grief counseling and therapy
- Presents the vital distinction between grief and trauma, and highlights different intervention approaches for each

MENTAL HEALTH & SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Suicide Assessment and Treatment Empirical and Evidence-Based Practices

Dana Worchel, PhD; Robin E. Gearing, PhD

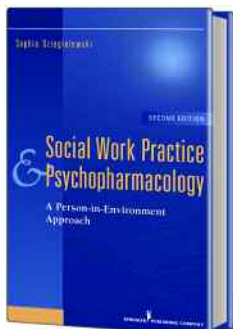

Suicide is an event that cannot be ignored, minimized, or left untreated. However, all too often mental health professionals and health care practitioners are unprepared to treat suicidal clients. This text offers the latest guidance to front line professionals who will likely encounter such clients throughout their careers, and to educators teaching future clinicians. It discusses how to react when clients reveal suicidal thoughts; the components of comprehensive suicide assessments; evidence-based treatments such as crisis intervention, CBT, DBT, and more; and the ethical and legal issues which may arise. Case studies, exercises, quizzes, and other features make this a useful text for graduate level courses.

Key topics:

- Risk and identification of suicidal behaviors across the lifespan (children, adolescents, adults, and the elderly)
- The links between suicidality and mental illness (psychotic disorders, mood disorders, and substance abuse)
- Suicide risk among special populations (military, LGBTQ individuals, the homeless, and more)
- The impact upon survivors of suicide

May 2010 • 412 pp • Hardcover • 978-0-8261-1698-7 • $55.00

MENTAL HEALTH & SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Social Work Practice and Psychopharmacology

A Person-in-Environment Approach, Second Edition

Sophia F. Dziegielewska, PhD, LCSW

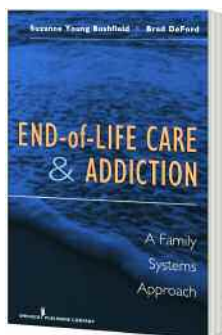

This text discusses the major medications used to treat common mental health conditions and offers guidelines on how to best serve clients who are using them. This new edition provides guidance on many issues that social workers will encounter in practice, including identifying potentially dangerous drug interactions and adverse side effects; improving medication compliance; recognizing the warning signs of drug dependence; and understanding how psychopharmacology can work in conjunction with psychosocial interventions. New to this edition are expanded discussions of child and adolescent disorders, engaging discussions of how new drugs are created, approved, and marketed, updated treatment plans, and a comprehensive medication glossary.

Important topics discussed:

- Treating common mental health conditions, such as depression, anxiety disorders, schizophrenia, and dementia
- Taking a comprehensive medication history
- Understanding medical terminology
- Avoiding drug misuse, dependence, and overdose

December 2009 • 552 pp • Hardcover • 978-0-8261-0217-1 • $65.00

End-of-Life Care and Addiction

A Family Systems Approach

Suzanne Bushfield, PhD, MSW; Brad DeFord, PhD, M Div

With a growing elderly population comes an increased need to recognize the medical and psychological needs of older adults suffering from addiction, particularly toward the end of life. This guide describes the challenges such persons and families present to those providing end-of-life care, and shows caregivers how to best negotiate these issues with clients and their families.

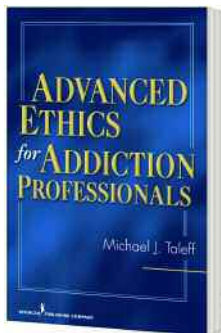

The authors place special emphasis on the role of the family, presenting a cohesive family systems approach to end-of-life care. The book demonstrates how hospice teams can work collaboratively with the client and family to help alleviate some of the emotional stress and pain of addiction. The authors also present practical guidelines for recognizing and diagnosing addiction, determining appropriate interventions, and outlining special concerns for addicted people in end-of-life care.

Key topics:

- Known markers of substance abuse and their appropriate interventions
- Physiological, psychological, and spiritual effects of addiction
- What every hospice team needs to know about family systems theory
- The emotional process of addicted clients, and what hospice teams, caregivers, and family members can do to help

November 2009 • 296 pp • Softcover • 978-0-8261-2141-7 • $45.00

MENTAL HEALTH & SUBSTANCE ABUSE

Advanced Ethics for Addiction Professionals

Michael J. Taleff, PhD, CSAC, MAC

This text presents common ethical dilemmas that addiction professionals face in their daily work, including boundary issues, confidentiality, dual relationships, and more. It also shows readers how to apply new models of ethical thinking to practice. The author presents common ethical dilemmas and asks readers to consider their own responses to these dilemmas.

Key features:

- An ethical self-exam designed to encourage critical thinking about one's own decision-making methods
- Philosophical theories such as the social contract theory, existentialist theory, and ethical egoism
- Biases, emotional reactions, and fallacies: how they can weaken ethical decision-making
- An introductory "Ethics Judgment Kit," a simple, practical decision-making procedure for students

November 2009 • 224 pp • Softcover • 978-0-8261-2458-6 • $45.00

SOCIAL WORK & AGING

Health Promotion and Aging

Practical Applications for Health Professionals, Fifth Edition

David Haber, PhD

This Fifth Edition of Health Promotion and Aging has been revised and updated with multiple new sub-sections, topics, and terms in each chapter. The book presents a wide scope of cutting-edge topics including: gay aging, Jewish aging, social networking, brain games, the Obama administration's health care reform, mental health parity, exploritas, Wii™-habilitation, elderspeak, skin cancer, Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, the late Senator Ted Kennedy's government-run long term care proposal, and sleep-related medical disorders.

This book is focused on current research findings and practical applications, and includes detailed descriptions of two of the author's own programs that have been recognized by the National Council on the Aging's Best Practices in Health Promotion and Aging. These programs are comprehensive exercise programs in the community that include aerobics, strength building, flexibility and balance, and health education; and a health contract/calendar to help older adults change health behaviors.

SOCIAL WORK & AGING

Geriatric Mental Health Disaster and Emergency Preparedness

John Toner, PhD, Editor

Therese Mierswa, MSW; Judith Howe, PhD, Associate Editors

“This is a must-read book for clinicians, service providers, policy makers, program planners, and teachers in the fields of mental health, aging, and emergency preparedness.”

—Robert N. Butler, MD (From the Foreword)

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the essential information that everyone working, or hoping to work in the field of aging, should know about disasters, emergencies, and their effects on the mental health and well-being of older persons. It provides the reader with evidence-based approaches for identifying and classifying mental health problems, such as Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), depression, and substance use disorders in older adults, which may occur during and post disasters/emergencies.

Specific attention is given to the special needs and approaches to the care of at-risk groups of older persons such as veterans and holocaust survivors; older adults who are isolated, dependent, have mobility problems, communication deficits, are cognitively impaired, or have other co-morbidities; elders who use meals-on-wheels, vital medications, or home care; or older persons who are in senior centers, nursing homes, or assisted living settings.

April 2010 · 444 pp · Hardcover · 978-0-8261-2221-6 · $70.00

SOCIAL WORK & AGING

Physical Change and Aging

A Guide for the Helping Professions, Fifth Edition

Sue V. Saxon, PhD; Mary Jean Etten, EdD, GNP, FT;

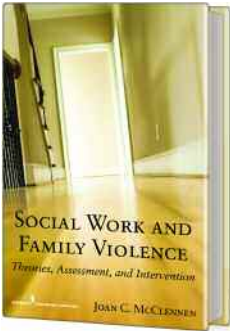

Elizabeth A. Perkins, PhD (c), RNMH

This book serves as an authoritative textbook and guide to the physical changes and common pathologies associated with the aging process, with special emphasis on the psychological and social implications of these changes in the lives of older adults. This fifth edition presents the newly available research findings that differentiate “normal” aging from actual pathology.

The book also demonstrates how the elderly population can gain greater personal control over aging through lifestyle modifications and preventive health strategies. The authors provide an updated review of important topics in aging, including death and grieving, complementary and alternative therapies, nutrition, exercise, and much more.

VIOLENCE & TRAUMA

Social Work and Family Violence Theories, Assessment, and Intervention

Joan McClellenen, PhD

This innovative textbook comprehensively discusses three types of family violence: child abuse and maltreatment, intimate partner violence, and elder abuse. Discussions on assessments and interventions are provided for the adult victims of family violence, adult survivors of child abuse, child witnesses of domestic violence, adolescent victims of dating violence, elderly victims, and perpetrators of abuse.

Intended for both bachelor's- and master's-level social work students, this text includes a variety of features such as case studies from real-life stories of family violence in every chapter, key terms, discussion questions, and more.

Key topics:

- Court structures and procedures, specialized court services for families experiencing violence, investigative interviewing, and social workers' roles within the judicial system
- Identifying and investigating child maltreatment, discussing symptoms and consequences, child interviewing, ethical dilemmas of mandated reporting, and the foster care system
- Intimate partner violence, including theoretical perspectives, laws and policies, financial costs, learned helplessness, the battered woman syndrome, orders of protection, mandatory arrest, and more
- Elder abuse, including an overview of theories, assessments, risk factors, adult protective services, caregiver interventions, and more

February 2010 • 368 pp • Hardcover • 978-0-8261-1132-6 • $65.00

Restorative Justice Dialogue An Essential Guide for Research and Practice

Mark Umbreit, PhD; Marilyn Peterson Armour, PhD

Restorative justice provides an innovative way of promoting justice and healing among victims, offenders, families, and communities. Originally intended as a means to transform our juvenile and criminal justice systems, restorative justice practices have now been utilized worldwide in a variety of settings including schools, family courts, workplaces, faith communities, and zones of deeply entrenched political or civil conflict.

This book focuses on the most widely utilized and empirically grounded applications of restorative justice: victim-offender mediation, family group conferencing, and peacemaking circles. For each, the authors include a thorough description of the process, including case examples, followed by a review of the available empirical research. The crucial role of the facilitator in restorative justice practices is highlighted and clarified.

Mark Umbreit, founding Director of the Center for Restorative Justice & Peacemaking, is a pioneer in the restorative justice movement and internationally renowned for his work among communities plagued by hate crimes, intolerance, and violence. Marilyn Peterson Armour is an expert in restorative justice and working with families of homicide victims. Together they bring the latest empirical research and clinical wisdom to those interested in the research and practice of restorative justice.

VIOLENCE & TRAUMA

Healing Collective Trauma Using Sociodrama and Drama Therapy

Eva Leveton, MS, MFC

This innovative text is an indispensable resource for therapists and counselors interested in using sociodrama and drama therapy for counseling patients from trauma-stricken groups.

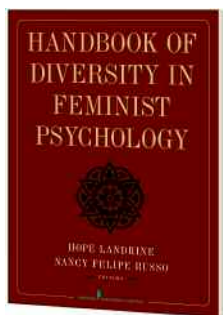

Traveling across geographic and cultural boundaries to examine group crises in Asia, Africa, Europe, and the U.S., author Eva Leveton offers cost-effective, small- and large-group approaches for people suffering from PTSD, socio-political oppression, and other social problems. The book extends the principles and practices of psychodrama and sociodrama to include music, painting, dance, collage, and ritual.

Key topics:

- The difficulties of developing trust in victimized or opposing groups
- Initiating warm-ups and therapeutic strategies with both groups and individuals
- “Narradrama” with marginalized groups
- Using anti-oppression models to inform psychodrama
- Re-reconciling culture-based conflicts using “culture-drama”

GENERAL REFERENCE

Handbook of Diversity in Feminist Psychology

Hope Landrine, PhD; Nancy Felipe Russo, PhD, Editors

“Critical for all those who are in the field of psychology to own, refer to, and use.”

—Florence L. Denmark, PhD (From the Foreword)
Author, Psychology of Women

Provocative and timely, this handbook presents a multicultural approach to diversity in feminist psychology. The unique quality of this book is that each contributor brings her own cultural perspective, values, and concerns to her chapter. Special emphasis is also given to the intersectionality of minority identities such as race, ethnicity, social class, sexual preference, and other socially constructed status differences among women.

With comprehensive discussions of cutting-edge issues in feminist discourse, it covers major topics such as:

- Intimate partner violence: perspectives from ethnic groups in the United States
- Gender-transgressive sexual minorities
- HIV/AIDS among women of color and sexual minority women
- Psychological perspectives on older women, including transitions, cognitive functioning, and mental health
- Ethnicity, disordered eating, and body image
