

ERRATA: For the following pages, 20, 25, 56, 119, 121, 167, 322, and 323 please note the updated questions and answers listed below.

---

Page 20 (Chapter 1):

4. The following statements are all true regarding the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, EXCEPT:

- A. Increased funding for rehabilitation and disability research and established the National Institute of Health
- B. Mandated that states serve individuals with less severe disabilities before serving persons with the most severe disabilities
- C. Established the Individualized Written Rehabilitation Program (IWRP) to ensure consumer involvement in the rehabilitation process
- D. Implemented Client Assistance Programs (CAPs) to provide assistance with application and advocacy services

Page 25 (Answer):

4B: The Rehabilitation Act of 1973 mandated services for people with the most severe disabilities before serving persons with less severe disabilities.

---

Page 56 (Chapter 2):

4. Individuals with health conditions who are able to make informed decisions about their care, perform activities to manage their condition, and apply the skills necessary for maintaining adequate psychosocial functioning are successfully practicing _____.

- A. Problem-focused coping
- B. Posttraumatic growth
- C. Self-management
- D. Containing disability effects

Answer remains the same as published

---

Page 119 (Chapter 4):

15. Which of the following is true concerning Krumboltz's social learning theory?

- A. It emphasizes that clients need to expand their capabilities and interests.
- B. It emphasizes that clients need to prepare for changing work tasks.
- C. It emphasizes that clients need to be empowered to take a stance.
- D. It emphasizes that counselors need to provide vocational counseling at all career development stages.
- E. All of the above

Page 121 (Answer):

15E

---

Page 167 (Chapter 5):

- 9. Which of the following theories posits that psychological distress is largely due to one's thought processes that are based on faulty ineffective thinking?
- A. Social learning theory
  - B. Reciprocal determinism
  - C. Operant conditioning
  - D. Cognitive-behavioral therapy

Answer: 9D

---

Pages 322 and 323 (Chapter 10):

6. The main reasons that the 1973 Rehabilitation Act was seen as so important includes all but which of the following?

- A. Created a mandate that individuals with the most significant disabilities receive services before those with less severe disabilities
- B. Mandated client involvement in rehabilitation planning so that clients were partners in the development of their Individualized Written Rehabilitation Program
- C. Was critical in establishing VR client assistance programs and independent living services
- D. Created a federal program that removed from the states the responsibility for collecting information about individuals with disabilities and their satisfaction with VR services

Answer remains the same as published