GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Creative Nursing is a themed peer-reviewed quarterly professional journal. Each issue of Creative Nursing brings readers insights into topics of interest to health care professionals from various practice settings. Creative Nursing is edited by health care professionals who love our professions and have a vision for their future. Article submissions from all walks of life are welcome and will receive respectful consideration. We strive to foster diverse perspectives and experiences, and invite contributors with unique insights, backgrounds, and expertise to join this inclusive dialogue. We especially welcome submissions from novice authors, and work with them to prepare robust, scholarly content. Articles accepted for potential publication undergo blinded review by independent content experts who hold advanced degrees in nursing or relevant related fields. The name of our journal reflects our historical origin as a publication about Primary Nursing, but we encourage and publish interprofessional articles from all health care disciplines around the world.

Creative Nursing considers manuscripts on topics related to both the practical and theoretical aspects of health care, including:

- Original articles presenting thoughtful discussion of a topic, including a review of the available body of knowledge concerning the topic.
- Reports of research and/or projects related to the current theme.
- Interviews with clinicians and other experts in fields related to the current theme.
- Personal stories and first-hand accounts related to the current theme.
- Commentaries and opinion pieces.
- Reviews of relevant books, articles, and other media

Upcoming Themes and Deadlines

The theme of Creative Nursing 2019 (Vol. 25) is Professional Practice in a Changing World. Submissions for this publication year are now complete. In Creative Nursing 2020 (Vol. 26) our theme is Seeing Beyond. Our four issues are:

#2 – Seeing Beyond Current Care. Deadline for this issue is Nov. 1, 2019.
#4 – Seeing Beyond. Deadline for this issue is May 1, 2020.

Manuscript Requirements

All manuscripts will be submitted as Word documents in 12-point Times New Roman Font, double-spaced, with 1” margins, using American Psychological Association version 6 (APA6) format for usage, in-text citations, and reference lists. All graphics (figures, tables, charts) will be in Word document format. Send photos as jpg or png files.

Target maximum length for personal accounts, commentary and opinion pieces, and media reviews is 2,000 words including references. Target maximum length for all other articles is 2800 words including references. Article length may be negotiated with the editor. Placement of any article within a theme issue or publication year is at the discretion of the Editorial Board.
All articles submitted will undergo initial review for appropriateness and clarity, and may be returned to the author(s) for responses before entering them into peer review. All initial acceptances are conditional pending the author(s) responses to the results of peer review.

Manuscript Submission
Manuscripts for publication in Creative Nursing should be submitted online using Editorial Manager.

Policies and Statements
It is the responsibility of the author(s) to read Springer Publishing Company’s journal policies and statements. Conflicts of Interest, Statements of Informed Consent, and Statements of Human and Animal Rights, if indicated, must be included when you submit your manuscript. Failure to do so may result in your manuscript being returned to you.